Proposal type	Details
Regulatory proposals where no RIA is required	As the Amendment Regulation relates to police powers and administration, general criminal laws, the administration of courts and tribunals and corrective services, no regulatory impact analysis is required under the Queensland Government Better Regulation Policy. The Amendment Regulation supports and operationalises the Government Election Commitment to introduce an electronic monitoring pilot (the pilot) for high-risk domestic and family violence perpetrators. The Domestic and Family Violence Protection and Other Legislation Amendment Act 2025 (Amendment Act) enables courts to impose a monitoring device condition on an eligible respondent to a domestic violence order. Contravention of a domestic violence order is a criminal offence. The Amendment Regulation prescribes specific matters for the pilot consistent with the framework and policy intent of the Amendment Act. These matters include prescribing court locations for the pilot, additional eligibility requirements for respondents to enable the pilot to operate for a limited cohort on commencement, and a framework to enable the sharing of monitoring information between prescribed entities and specialist domestic and family violence service providers.
Minor and machinery in nature	Other amendments in the Amendment Regulation are minor and machinery in nature. These amendments include consequential amendments to the Childrens Court Rules 2016, Disability Services Regulation 2017, Domestic and Family Violence Protection Rules 2014, Evidence Regulation 2017, Explosives Regulation 2017, Police Service Administration Regulation 2016, and Residential Tenancies and Rooming Accommodation Regulation 2025.

Consequential amendments primarily insert reference to Police Protection Directions, established by the Amendment Act, in subordinate legislation where appropriate.

Amendments to the Evidence Regulation 2017 facilitate expansion of the video recorded evidence-in-chief framework statewide.
