

Human Services Quality Framework (HSQF) certification for Family Based Care Services

Overview

The department has introduced a Family Based Care Services Investment Specification to provide family based care services and the requirements for certification of these services has been included in the updated Human Services Quality Framework (HSQF). The minimum evidence requirements for these services are included in the HSQF User Guide – Certification.

HSQF Certification Audits

Certification audits (or self-assessment, if applicable) will be conducted to ensure compliance with the HSQF requirements for Family Based Care Services. Audits scheduled to occur from 1 October 2025 will be conducted against the new version of the HSQF User Guide (v10).

Services that participated in the piloting phase of the Kin service types are now in scope of HSQF certification/self-assessment, as the piloting period has now concluded.

What service types are affected?

The following service types fall within the scope of these compliance requirements:

- Connecting Kin (T210)
- Equipping Kin (T211)
- Supporting Kin (T212)
- Foster Care Recruitment (T213)
- Supporting Foster Care (T214)
- Specialist Family Based Care (T215)

What are the timeframes to achieve certification?

Your service agreement requires your organisation to achieve certification covering the service/s within 18 months (of being advised your organisation is in scope, or from the schedule start date), or at your next audit if already certified.

What Service Providers Need to Do?

- Ensure that all service delivery processes align with the requirements of the Family Based Care Services Investment Specifications V2.
- Review the updated HSQF Quality Framework and User Guide.
- Determine if the services meet the threshold for certification or self-assessment.
- If self-assessment is applicable follow the key milestones for completing a self-assessment.
- If certification is required:
 - ✓ Tell your auditor about your new service type/s.
 - ✓ Prepare for the next scheduled audit to ensure conformance with requirements for the new services.

Changes to Licensed Service Types Under the New Family Based Care Services Investment Specifications

The implementation of the Family Based Care Services Investment Specification has resulted in three new service types that fall into the scope of licensing:

- Supporting Kin (T212)
- Supporting Foster Care (T214)
- Specialist Family Based Care (T215).

These all fall within the family based care with direct care licence function to “recruit, train, assess and support departmentally approved carers, and provide additional support for the placement through the employment of direct care staff”.

What Service Providers Need to Do?

If your licence already has the service type you must apply to add any new services within 30 days.

If you are licensed for family based care with a direct care licence function, you can apply to add the new service type to the licence before HSQF certification. You should discuss this with your contract officer.

If you do not have a licence or it does not include a service of the same type/s, HSQF certification will need to be achieved prior to the service becoming licensed. Once HSQF certified:

- For unlicensed providers the department will invite you to apply for a licence.
- For licensed providers you must apply to update your licence within 30 days.

How are your services monitored?

Once licensed, the new services will be inspected at least annually by the department to ensure compliance with licensing requirements.

Inspections will cover all funded functions in scope of licensing, including supplemented care.
