Title: Structured Decision Making

Policy No: 407-8

Policy Statement:

The Department of Families, Seniors, Disability Services and Child Safety (Child Safety) has a legislative responsibility to respond to information received about harm or risk of harm to a child, or an unborn child who may be at risk after he or she is born, and to take action to ensure the child's safety when there is no parent able and willing to protect the child.

Child Safety staff will use Structured Decision Making, in conjunction with professional judgement and knowledge of legislation, policies and procedures, to facilitate decision-making at designated decision points across the child protection continuum.

Child Safety is committed to respecting, protecting and promoting human rights. The Human Rights Act 2019 requires Child Safety to act and make decisions in a way that is compatible with human rights and, when making a decision, to give proper consideration to human rights.

The safe care and connection of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children with family, community, culture and country will be a key consideration in decision making by Child Safety staff.

Principles:

- The safety, wellbeing and best interests of the child, both throughout childhood and the rest of the child's life, are paramount.
- Every child has a right to protection from harm.
- Child Safety staff will act and make decisions in a way that is compatible with human rights and obligations under the Human Rights Act 2019.
- Consistent assessment and case planning enhance quality outcomes for children.
- The five elements of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Child Placement Principle (prevention, partnership, placement, participation and connection) under the Child Protection Act 1999, section 5C, apply to any processes, decisions and actions taken for an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander child.
- Increased accuracy of critical decisions contributes to the safety of children.

Objectives:

This policy aims to support Child Safety staff to make consistent, accurate and timely decisions that result in the delivery of high-quality child protection services to children and families.
